State Purchasing Director

MEMORANDUM

To: Jim Burns
Chief Information Officer

From: Isaac Kervin
State Purchasing Director

Date: June 12, 2007

Subject: ITB 07-X-2170936 – Inmate and Public Payphones

Please find attached (Located in Attachment "A") an "ORDER OF THE COURT" issued by Circuit Judge Eugene W. Reese. This ORDER resulted from the Circuit Court for Montgomery County, Court Case No. CV-2007-407. Within this ORDER, the Judge ordered the State of Alabama to consider the contract resulting from Invitation-to-Bid (ITB) 07-X-2170936 as a valid and binding State Term Contract. The State was further ordered, to recognize the effective date of the contract as June 1, 2007 to May 31, 2010.

As the State Purchasing Director, it is my belief that the State should follow this ORDER OF THE COURT. Since this is an Agency Term Contract specifically bid for the Information Services Division (ISD), you should now be free to take whatever actions necessary to execute the terms of this contract.

I wish you and all others involved with this contract, much success!

CASE NO. CV-2007-407

ORDER

This cause came to be heard on May 15, May 16 and May 17, 2007. Plaintiff Global Tel*Link Corporation ("GTL") brought the instant action against the Defendants, State of Alabama, Alabama Department of Finance, and Isaac Kervin in his official capacity as Director of the Division of Purchasing of the Alabama Department of Finance, for declaratory judgment. Plaintiff GTL contends that in accordance with the Alabama Competitive Bid laws that GTL and the State of Alabama entered into a contract on or about December 19, 2006 referred to as "Telephone Services - Pay and Inmate". T-NETIX, Inc., an unsuccessful bidder, filed a Motion to Intervene and the Court allowed T-NETIX, Inc. to intervene as a defendant in this case. The Intervenor Complaint for Declaratory Judgment filed by T-NETIX, Inc. was deemed a cross-claim against the State defendants and a counter-claim against the Plaintiff, GTL. T-NETIX, Inc. contends in its cross-claim/counter-claim that the contract between GTL and the State of Alabama was let in violation of the Alabama Competitive Bid Laws. The State of Alabama contends in this case that at all times the State officials acted in good faith, but the State does request that the contract be rebid.

The Court has considered all of the evidence and applicable legal authorities. The Court finds as follows: In awarding the contract to GTL, the State of Alabama complied with the Alabama Competitive Bid laws. On December 19, 2006, the State of Alabama and GTL entered into a contract for "Telephone Services - Pay and Inmate". In awarding the contract to GTL, the State officials acted in good faith. The contract called for delivery "asap". GTL proceeded immediately in accordance with the contract and incurred approximately $350,000 in purchasing equipment and approximately 450 plus man-hours before GTL was stopped by the State on February 1, 2007. The State does not contend nor is there any evidence that GTL breached the contract between the State and GTL. In fact, the evidence is clear that GTL has complied with the December 19, 2006 contract. T-NETIX, Inc. was an unsuccessful bidder and protested GTL receiving the contract. However, T-NETIX, Inc. did not provide the State of Alabama with any specific complaints until January 31, 2007. Beginning on or about February 1, 2007, the State officials re-evaluated the bid responses. Around the middle of February 2007 (approximately two months after the contract was entered into between the State of Alabama and GTL), the State determined that the GTL bid response to the Invitation to Bid fully complied except for one discrepancy. The Invitation to Bid had requested two financial statements (2004 and 2005) and it was determined that GTL filed the 2004, but not the 2005 financial statement. In approximately mid-February of 2007 when this one discrepancy was found, it was determined by the State officials that the State officials had simply made an honest mistake and honest error. The evidence is clear and without dispute that the State officials acted in good faith and simply made an honest mistake. The contract between GTL and the State of Alabama comprises over 350 pages including numerous technical specifications all of which GTL complied with. Whether a bid response is being initially evaluated or re-evaluated, the standard is the same - Did the State officials make the contract award in good faith. The State officials clearly did so in this case. The Court finds that the State officials acted in good faith; that there is no evidence that the State officials acted in bad faith or arbitrarily and capriciously; that there was no ignorance on the part of the State officials through lack of inquiry; that there is no evidence that the State officials based the contract on any misconception of the law; nor is there any evidence that the award was a result of any improper influence.

The contract in this case was awarded in accordance with the Alabama Competitive Bid laws. The single most important requirement of the Competitive Bid law is the good faith of the officials charged with executing the requirements of the law. The honest exercise of discretion by such officials will not be interfered with by the Courts, even if it is erroneous. White v. McDonald Ford Tractor Company, 248 So. 2d 121 (Ala. 1971); International Telecommunications Systems v. State, 359 So. 2d 364, 368 (Ala. 1978); Advance Tank & Constr. Co. v. Accordingly, it is the ORDER of this Court that JUDGMENT is hereby entered in favor of Global Tel*Link Corporation on its complaint for declaratory judgment and against the Defendants, State of Alabama, Alabama Department of Finance, Isaac Kervin in his official capacity as Director of the Division of Purchasing of the Alabama Department of Finance; and T-NETIX, Inc. In regard to the counter-claim/cross-claim filed by T-NETIX, Inc., it is the ORDER of this Court that JUDGMENT is hereby entered in favor of Global Tel*Link Corporation, State of Alabama, Alabama Department of Finance and Isaac Kervin in his official capacity as Director of the Division of Purchasing of the Alabama Department of Finance and against T-NETIX, Inc. It is further ORDERED, ADJUDGED and DECREED that there is a valid binding contract between the State of Alabama and Global Tel*Link Corporation and that the State of Alabama shall fully and completely comply therewith. Further, in that the State of Alabama has unquestionably delayed the contract for approximately four months, it is further ORDERED that the effective date of the contract shall be June 1, 2007 to May 31, 2010. Each party shall respectfully bear their own costs.

DONE this the 5 day of ^{June}~~May~~, 2007.

This cause came to be heard on May 15, May 16 and May 17, 2007. Plaintiff Global Tel*Link Corporation ("GTL") brought the instant action against the Defendants, State of Alabama, Alabama Department of Finance, and Isaac Kervin in his official capacity as Director of the Division of Purchasing of the Alabama Department of Finance, for declaratory judgment. The Intervenor Complaint for Declaratory Judgment filed by T-NETIX, Inc. was deemed a cross-claim against the State defendants and a counter-claim against the Plaintiff, GTL. T-NETIX, Inc. contends in its cross-claim/counter-claim that the contract between GTL and the State of Alabama was let in violation of the Alabama Competitive Bid Laws. The State of Alabama contends in this case that at all times the State officials acted in good faith, but the State does request that the contract be rebid.

However, T-NETIX, Inc. did not provide the State of Alabama with any specific complaints until January 31, 2007. Beginning on or about February 1, 2007, the State officials re-evaluated the bid responses. Around the middle of February 2007 (approximately two months after the contract was entered into between the State of Alabama and GTL), the State determined that the GTL bid response to the Invitation to Bid fully complied except for one discrepancy.
