I didn't enter this request into AASIS because the original contract was done offline – attached email is the previous 3 months sole source Robin Rogers had approved.

The intent with the new option is to give ADC the ability to sign a new contract during the RFP interim so that the RFP process does not have to be rushed. Based on the questions GTL has we can cannot respond to the RFP without a great deal of additional data and clarifications. These options also allow ADC not have to go without a contract since we know there is not any way to extend the current contract. It also allows some direction on how the FCC ruling will be finalized so all companies know how to proceed with business in the future.
